Library Hosts Virtual Mad Science Youth Program

Roseburg, OR – The Roseburg Public Library will host a holiday-themed science program for youth on Tuesday, December 1, 2020, at 4 p.m. The program will be hosted virtually, via Zoom, and participants must register prior to the event by going to this link HERE.

Mad Science of Portland and Vancouver will present a winter holiday show with science fun straight from the North Pole. Children can watch how science helps Santa Eggbert get down the “chimney.” See how simple powders burst into holiday colors, analyze a substance said to be from the North Pole and defrost a chemical snowman.

The program is accessible only during the live performance, and registration is required. Go to the Library’s Facebook Event page, which can be found on the Library’s Facebook page at Facebook.com/RoseburgLibrary, and click on the link to register; a Facebook account is not required. After registering, individuals will receive a confirmation email containing instructions on how to join the program.

For more information about the program, please contact Youth Services Librarian, Aurora Oberg, at aoberg@cityofroseburg.org or 541-492-7054.
